ONE OF THE DIFFERENCES.

The advance in stocks and Government securities that was predicted if Garfield should be elected does not seem to have occurred, so far as the ordinary observer has been able to discover. It is a well known fact that depression exists at the East rather than buoyancy. Even within the last ten days there has been a fearful stringency in the New York money market. We do not say that this is a consequence of Garfield's election, but it is certain that the success of the Republicans has not helped money or business matters. The last great financial crash occurred when the Republican party was in power and when the administration of the Government had been in its hands for ten or twelve years. Did that party relieve the country and its business interests from financial embarrassment and general depression? The facts show the very reverse. But when the Democrats began to get control of the House of Representatives improvements commenced and has continued right up to the time of Garfield's election. Let these facts be remembered. Thinking men know they are facts that cannot be successfully refuted. We would hope the country might be favored with economical government under Republican control if we could; but its history does not warrant such a hope. As soon as the Democrats obtained control in Congress the expenses were cut down immediately. And this has been the rule: Republicans invariably increase, and Democrats as surely reduce expenditures. After the present session there will be an increase, if we are not mistaken. Already there is a clamor for an increase of the army and navy, and doubtless many other openings will be found where millions upon millions of the people's money will be expended. Let us watch and see if these things are not so.

LAST year, the newspapers were lamenting the number of commercial failures. But that is all changed now. Thus far the failures of the present year only amount to $45,000,000. During the same period last year they reached $81,000,000, and the year before they aggregated the disastrous figure of $197,000,000. Present appearances indicate that when the record is made up for 1880 complete, the record will be found to be relatively smaller than at any time for the last fifteen years.—S. F. Examiner.

GEN. WALKER will have the complete census returns, as far as population is concerned, ready the present week. The apportionment of representation in Congress can, of course, be made very easily by the forty-sixth Congress, unless debate on the subject is so protracted as to prevent any action. If the basis of representation is not changed, the House will have 363 members instead of 293, as at present.

IT IS STATED on apparently good authority, says the S. F. Post, that not less than 200,000 voters at each Presidential election sell their votes at rates varying from $2 to $5 per head. Supposing this to be true, the great question that ought now to be considered is, How to place these voters in the State Prisons. Those who pay the money ought to be put upon chain-gangs.

INASMUCH as the Readjuster Democrats of Virginia lacked about 65,000 votes of a majority over the regular Democracy in the Presidential vote, it is a mathematical certainty that the victory for repudiation at the last State election in Virginia was a Republican and not a Democratic crime. Let the blame fall on the party that gave two-thirds of the votes for repudiation.

THE Bee says that when Grant was in Beecher's church one Sunday, and the congregation were paying much attention to the General, the clergyman recalled them to their senses by saying: "This building is for the worship of God—not of man," and then adds: Strange, though, how little consideration the Almighty has been receiving there lately.

THE second Wednesday in February next is the time when Congress will count the vote for President. How it will be counted seems not to have been definitely settled, but one thing is certain, there will be no Commission this time. Garfield is doubtless elected and consequently there is no need for any such manipulation.

THE Examiner notices that Missouri runs away ahead in population, but in the matter of voting Indiana leads her over 60,000. Yes, and it is safe to assert, adds the Stanislaus News, that had it been necessary to Garfield's success, she would just as readily have cast 100,000 more votes than the larger State of Missouri.

WHEAT crushing, between iron rollers, is the next improvement in the way of manufacturing flour. Millers are making preparations to introduce this great improvement. It is said this arrangement will enable them to turn out double the amount of flour per week over the old system, and the flour will be much better.

ON the 11th of November a river of burning lava thirty miles in length and nearly a mile wide flowed down from the crater of Mauna Loa, Honolulu, to the sea, presenting a grand sight, especially at night. Fears are entertained for the safety of the town of Hilo.

A SCHEME for changing the channel of the St. Lawrence at Montreal, by building an immense dyke, at a cost of $7,000,000, is under consideration. The advantages would be a still-water harbor, water power for mills, and the protection of the lower part of the city against annual freshets.

THERE are eighty-four working days in the present session of Congress. Twelve regular appropriation bills have to be passed, the electoral vote must be counted, and the apportionment of the forty-eighth Congress; these constitute some of the business of the body.

JACKSON FERGUSON, Supervisor of the Census for Nevada, has just completed the returns for that State. He says that the total population is within a hundred or two of 60,000.

THE People's Cause newspaper, published at Red Bluff, has again changed hands, Jerome Banks retiring, and Smith, Butler and McGarry assuming control.

STEPHEN COOPER, of Colusa, was chosen by the California Electors to act as Messenger to bear the returns of the vote of the State to Washington.

M. E. POST, Democrat, has been elected Delegate to Congress from Wyoming Territory. Arizona has also elected a Democratic Delegate.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

[Special Correspondence.]

A Little Moralizing on Thanksgiving—Why Business Leaves Broadway for other more Eligible Localities—The Opening of the Parisian Salon—The Hair Trade of America and What it Amounts to.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4th, 1880.

Thanksgiving, constituting a sort of dividing line between the season proper and the holidays, was ushered in with a sharp sprinkling of snow, suggestive of Lowell's beautiful poem. The proverbial turkey was eaten with the usual gusto in hundreds of homes, despite the white silence upon field and highway, like an unblemished cerement. Pastors of different churches delivered suitable orations, and everybody was grateful, doubtless, after a special personal fashion. To-day, the fireside and temple of worship—to-morrow, the fever of life in the forum, and work in the great caravansary, carried hither and thither by tides of ceaseless activity.

The ridiculous aversion to a surface railway indulged by the denizens of Broadway has had the effect of transferring to other points now prominent many of the Lares and Penates of trade previously consecrated to this great thoroughfare. Fourteenth street constitutes a sort of radius for mercantile triumphs a la mode.

Among recent departures, the opening of the Parisian Salon (No. 54) is an event most notable. Ladies flock by hundreds to the sumptuously appointed rooms lined with cases of gold and ebony containing cosmetics and coiffure decorations in which many a secret of beauty lies, interspersed with every device possible to that facile agent, the human hair, amazed and fascinated at the evidences and appliances of art so perfect as to conceal even the traces of art. Surely, the mercantile genius of the nineteenth century has given evidence of progress within the domain of the Aesthetics, equal, if not superior to innovations permeating the atmosphere of other arts, in which the subtleties of science are pleasurably prolific, as are the emanations from this laboratory.

THE SECRET EXPOSED.

L. Shaw leads the hair trade of America. Like A. T. Stewart, Edward Ridley, Baldwin the Clothier and others who have reared splendid temples to material enterprise, the house had a diminitive beginning. Scrupulous attention was given to details in each special line. The stock is selected with the utmost discrimination, and the manufacturing is done under the careful supervision of the head of the house. The business, grown to immense proportions, has ever been conducted upon principles of rigid economy; and that is why success has crowned previous efforts with this new departure which is, to the shopping public, a boon beyond computation. It is such a comfort to feel there is a place where one may go to read, write, rest, or be refreshed secure from the possibilities of intrusion.

The Salon proper is accessible by means of an elevator leading up from the street and from the general salesroom below. It is sumptuously furnished. Wonders of gold and ebony meet the eye at every turn. Mirrors multiply splendors which make one feel as if she had, perchance, strayed into fairy-land. A sense of luxurious completeness permeates the enchanted atmosphere. The light filtered through portals of stained glass separating this superb temple from the outer world resembles a very quintescence of rainbows. Adjoining apartments are devoted to hairdressing, shampooing, or the application of harmless cosmetics, each and all compounded with a view to the most critical test, are sedulously secluded from the gaze of a third party. The arrangement is simply perfect, and the result just what one would expect under the circumstaces, since the movement was in response to an imperative public demand. The pressure for room in a locality where stores are few and rents are enormous, is so great that L. Shaw has concluded to economise space and transfer the entire hair business with its numberless associates to the salon above, and let the spacious ware-room below to one of the many dealers who seek lodgment in this new thronged thoroughfare.

Apropos of beauty en masque, reminds me, the opening of Bloom's temple was one of the commercial successes of the season. The new stove is perfect in all its suits and household goods is entirely in consonance with the new surroundings. The house having so long made a specialty of theatrical costumes, is thoroughly identified with the interests of the profession whose requirements are met upon a scale of completeness unknown in other sections. Exquisite toilets for public or private life, with accessories of every class and character, are furnished after the latest Parisian models, richly embroidered, embellished with exquisite bead passmenteries at a few hour's notice. From specimens on display eliminating the very latest data, the following notes upon current styles were adduced:

FASHION NOTES.

Walleau dresses of satin brocade are made over petticoats of rich Persian embroidery. The skirt and wide flowing sleeves are finished with ribbon knowith flowing ends, end frills of yellowish lace.

Fichus, ruffles, neckties, fraises, stomachers, and collars of yellow lace are considered indispensable to modern toilets. Cuffs and collars made of odds and ends of black silks trimmed with this saffron tinted lace are considered very stylish.

A natty costume for young ladies is laced up the back. The corsage front, self-trimmed with a ficher of folds is crossed transversely and terminates in a bow at the left side of the waist line.

Feather fans are all the rage in Paris. They are of grebe marabout and tophomore feathers, but those of ostrich feathers shaded to suit the toilet are considered most stylish.

Small hats gromed entirely of feathers are not now so fashionable as the small bonnets of velvet drawn or shirred, and trimmed with shaded vine leaves of chenille or velvet. The ruby tint is considered most stylish, and the trimmings are sometimes shaded to the palest blue.

Soft caps with brims or without and of pretty shapes are much worn by young ladies as an accompaniment to jackets of velvet brocade.

Ruby brocaded with pale blue in dainty figures is the latest thing in combinations, and shows resplendently beside the white silks brocaded with clusters of tinted roses. Yet the materials in vogue for the winter festivities are the venetians brocaded in gold and silver.

The latest fabrics are called the Colonel and Lieutenant Colonel. They are covered with superb epaulette decorations in gold which set out from the fabric like an ornament tied on. They are very costly, though a little of them go a great way as an accessory.

Other toilets are covered with roses like champagne. Again the Genoa velvets embroidered with pearls are very rare and costly fabrics.

Satin marveleuse embroidered with gold, silver or irridescent beads are among the costly issues of the season.

Some of the latest fabrics in wool have Bayadere lines of contrasting color. Others are covered wrth spots of gold, silver, or color.

Scotch goods of every class and variety are in high vogue. In addition to the customary clan plaids there are other bordered goods of every class and quality.

A wedding toilet of Satin marveleuse was exquisitely embroidered on tablier and corsage with lilies-of-the-valley in silver with silken traceres.

A petticoat of pale blue satin was trimmed with pliases acquible or shell of white lace. The pipes were finished at the hips with a cascade of white and blue satin. Around the bottom was a bayalcuse headed with a vine embroidered with roses and their leaves. Under the panier ribbons were passed en cascade. The habit was of pale blue velvet, with Louis XVI vest and rouleaux of white satin ornamented with embroidery. The sleeves had a jabot of old lace falling over the hands. Walleau buttons in imitation of pearls or colored pebbles and hat in harmony with the physiognomy of the wearer completed this beautiful costume. VIOLA.

The South and the Message.

Mr. Hayes, in his message to Congress devoted considerable space to the Southern States and the negro, in which he took contrary ground to that of ex-President Grant as regards the freedom of the franchise, etc. Referring to what Mr. Hayes says on this subject, the Richmond Dispatch is reported to have contained the following, which seems to be candid, and of its merits our our readers can judge for themselves:

Mr. Hayes libels the South in reference to the negroes. We need not stop to refute his false assertions on this subject, nor take notice of his twaddle about the solid South. He asserts that every man knows it to be false when he pronounces the new amendments to the Federal Constitution to be the solemn expression of the will of the people. He knows they were forced upon the people of the South. The President revives the civil service humbug. Of all men in the world he should be the last to touch this subject—he who allowed his officers to stump the country for Garfield; he who appointed scores of villains to office that aided in defrauding South Carolina and Louisiana out of their vote for President in 1876; he who allowed three severe assessments to be made upon all the clerks, male and female, in all the departments of the Government to pay rascals for cheating Hancock out of the Presidency. Mr. Hayes, let us say once more, is a hypocrite. He is a pretty fellow to open his mouth on the subject of divorce between Congress and the President. The President touches upon polygamy, and as a means of extirpating it recommends the governing of Utah by a Commission. That would serve as a precedent for a like mode of governing the Southern States, which can as easily be converted into Territories as they were a few years ago. The President says an army of 60,000 is the least the country can get along with. If we are to have Republican rule we ought to have three times as many. General Hancock could have got along with 30,000. The President recommends that West Point should be put under officers on the retired list—a blow at General Schofield and a sop to the negro. The President recommends that General Grant be made Captain General, with all that the title implies. He served as President and received $300,000 for it. He served as General and received as much for that service, we suppose; yet he is still to be provided for. A protest from the South would insure the scheme. We forbear to comment upon it. So much for Hayes' last message. Its tone bodes no good to the country; but we have some faith in his successor. Mr. Garfield can be a great man. Let us see if he will be.

God in the Constitution.

The National Reform Association held a Convention at Syracuse, N. Y., recently, the object of which seems to be to obtain par ticular recognition of certain classes of religionists by the Government to the exclusion of other classes, through an amendment to the Constitution of the United States. A report of the first session of the Convention thus states its object:

The Convention is to consider questions relating to the encroachment of sectarianism and to maintain existing Christian features of the American Government, such as the Bible in the schools, the Christian law of marriage, the Sabbath laws, the national and State thanksgivings, fasts, etc. As a means to this end such an amendment to the national Constitution is desired as will indicate that this is a Christian nation and provide a legal basis for the Christian institutions referred to. It is said for the movement that it does not look in the direction of a union of church and State. Its promoters emphatically condemn such a union, which has wrought such unhappy results in the Old World. They claim that the amendment which they seek would bring the national Constitution into harmony with the Constitutions of the several States, in thirty of which acknowledgements, more or less explicit, of God and the Christian religion are to be found. Bishop Peck was expected to preside, but was unable to be present, owing to Conference duties. The Reverend J. H. McCarty, D. D., of Syracuse, occupied the chair. Dr. McCarty, the Rev. S. R. Wallace of Syracuse, the Rev. E. Barnetson of Jackson Valley, Pa., and Judge D. J. Harmon of Oswego spoke this evening.

Coercion in Connecticut.

Here is an illustration from the Hartford Times which proves pretty conclusively how Connecticut was carried for Garfield:

"Any one of a hundred towns in this State will illustrate the method by which Connecticut was carried for Garfield. A Glastonbury correspondent informs us that the Republican system of bulldosing the workingmen was applied to thirty-four Democrats employed in one of the cotton factories in South Glastonbury, and that not one of the thirty-four ventured to vote as he wished; thirty were 'influenced' to vote the Republican ticket, and the remaining four would not vote at all. All of the thirty-four, says our informant, would have voted the Democratic ticket had no 'pressure' been brought to bear upon them. In another factory in the same town, says Mr. C., the men were made to understand that it was 'vote Republican, or no more work.' They were called together and told by one of the owners that they were expected to vote with the Republicans, and that, unless Garfield was elected, 'that shop would be shut up' and every man turned out of employment! This stuff 'fetched 'em.' Glastonbury is but a fair average example. Take two hundred such establishments—factories, workshops and mills—which were brought under similar direct 'pressure,' and the 2,500 majority for Garfield in Connecticut is at once fully accounted for, without resorting to the corruption fund of $200,000 which was used in addition here in this State. In Weathersfield $10 apiece was paid for votes for the Republican ticket; in other towns, $5, $10 and $20."

Proposed 'Criminal Reform

At a meeting held at Cooper Institute, N. Y., November 30th, by the friends of prison reform, Henry Bergh astonished the assemblage by declaring himself utterly opposed to the sentiment of the meeting. He said: "I believe if a man cannot live without murdering somebody, he must be put out of the way. I say kill him. A great deal has been said about improving criminals. Let me tell you how I would abolish all the penitentiaries in the land to save all expenses of running. In their place I would have whipping posts every where, and to make sure that the lash was laid on thoroughly, I would offer a reward for the invention of a steam machine that could not be bribed with offers of political place or money. No man has had a better opportunity to see what criminals are made of than I have had, and I tell you that hundreds of them commit crime to be sent to places which you provide for their comfort. They are warm and clean there. They get good soup and nice potatoes, and everything which hardworking, honest men and women can't get in your tenement houses." A good many thinking people have come to the same conclusion as Mr. Bergh. The more leniently

CHANGE OF FORM.

Having procured a larger press, we this week present the DEMOCRAT to its patrons in its original form of four pages. While there are not as many pages as heretofore they are larger, and we have no doubt that it will prove fully as acceptable to the reader. We shall not be able to give as much miscellaneous reading matter as heretofore, but we shall furnish more that is original and local, and hope and expect to improve the paper from time to time, as has been done during the past eleven years.

It is proper that the reason for this change should be stated. We have been using what is called a "patent inside," from San Francisco, which was furnished by a party who has a complete monopoly of the business, and who held the paper so high that is impossible to pay the price demanded without losing money, at the rate at which we furnish it to subscribers; and that we cannot afford to do. But besides this, the law (State and United States,) has determined that certain kinds of advertising cannot be legally done in papers using the so-called patent sheets.

With this explanation of the change in the appearance and style of the DEMOCRAT we start on a new era in its publication, which we trust will be entirely satisfactory to its patrons and far more so than heretofore to its publisher.

One word more: Will not the friends of the DEMOCRAT aid us in increasing its circulation, which ought to be doubled in Yolo county? Democrats, especially, ought to do this. The commencement of another year would be a fitting time. We offer it for $2.50 a year, if paid in advance, including postage, which has to be prepaid. Friends, send in the names, and help us to furnish you a still better paper.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 8th, 1880.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT:—Everything seems to indicate a busy winter. Such of the members as I have conversed with say there will be but little politics indulged in at the coming session; that time is too precious to waste on that subject, the people expecting more work and less talk. The general appropriation bills of course have to be discussed and passed, and will of themselves, take up much of the session; hence, if there is to be any general business acted on, the utmost dillgence must be exercised and time economised as much as possible. The calendars coming over from last winter show a large amount of unfinished business that ought to receive some consideration; and particularly so from the fact that there are a large number of retiring members who are deeply interested in the passing of many local bills, that are important in themselves as well as to localities, many of them it is thought will be attached to the general appropriation bills—when germaine—and thus be acted on as a whole, yet there will remain a large number that will have to be passed upon separately.

Members will doubtless co-operate with one another on a sort of mutual assistance basis for the purpose of securing their pet measures. As to new legislation, there will be next to none attempted at this session. There is some talk, however, of getting a Refunding bill through, and of amending the Silver bill. As to taking up the tariff question, I do not think that either party are ready, in fact both parties, as near as I can judge, wish to avoid any and all new legislation at present, preferring that the [illegible] have a rest and give public [illegible] form and indirectly give the [illegible] tion, in other words, the two [illegible] are so equally balanced that the [illegible] as the responsible party, wish [illegible] haste slowly, the country being [illegible] ous at present.

[illegible] of the Democrats, however, and [illegible] more especially the Western members, are quite anxious that some action should be taken on one or the other of the various tariff bills now on the calendar. They firmly believe that the question of revenue, for years to come, will be the main difference between the two political parties, and deem it time that Democrats should place themselves on record, in opposition to the present high rates of tariff. The Western members are not in favor of free trade in the broadest sense of the term, but are in favor of tariff for revenue only.

Whether the Democrats will still antagonize the payment of deputy marshals, is not definitely known. Many of them think it not expedient to longer prolong the fight, and antagonize the administration. This is evident, from the well known fact that several Democratic Senators, particularly those from the South, have written letters to President-elect Garfield, stating that it was their desire to work in harmony with the incoming administration. Having the interests of their section at heart, they do not wish to prolong a useless fight, and thereby prevent the South from receiving the patronage to which she is entitled.

The speakership of the House is eagerly sought after by several aspirants, among the most prominent among whom is Mark H. Dunnell, of Minnesota. He is now serving his sixth term in Congress, and has been re-elected to the Forty Seventh. If we must have a Republican for Speaker, there are few better fitted for the place than he, besides, the West, outside of Indiana, has never been honored with the Speakership, and its growing importance as a political factor, demands recognition. "DAY."

H. J. TILLOTSON, merchant and postmaster at San Pablo, Contra Costa county, the other night was awakened by Chinese burglars entering his place of business, and just as one of the Mongolians had got his head through an opening from which he had removed a large pane of glass, Tillotson fired a shotgun at him from the inside which carried away the top of his head. Mr. Tillotson gave himself up to the authorities, but was acquitted on the ground of justifiable homicide.

It has been stated that Sara Bernhardt, the French actress, realized for her services in New York as follows: She made $6,000 the first night of her appearance, $4,400 the second night, $5,000 the third and over $5,000 on the fourth. These figures represent an income of $25,000 per week. Her earnings at Booth's are said to be the largest ever made by anybody on the stage.

The Secretary of State is said to believe that under the new Chinese treaty one-third of the cereal products of the great West, which now find their way to the markets, will be eagerly sought for by China, and that instead of England maintaining the control of the Chinese trade, as she does today, the United States will become the most formidable competitor.

In the case of Schroder, (son-in-law of Rev. Dr. Stebbins,) who has been on trial for some time past in Oakland for killing Dr. Le Fever, a dentist of that city, for too great intimacy with Mrs. Schroder, (which the latter confessed,) the jury on Monday afternoon rendered a verdict of "not guilty." The trial showed that the circumstances were mitigating.

C. J. BEERSTECHER, who was a member of the late Constitutional Convention and one of the State Board of Railroad Commissioners, was shot near his residence in San Francisco on Monday night by Antone Fischer, on account of political jealousy. Beerstecher's wound is not thought to be dangerous. Fischer has been arrested.

John Kelly's Downfall.

NEW YORK, December 10.—Despite the cold weather there was an interested crowd of politicians about the City Hall to attend the Aldermanic meeting. It was believed that the anti-Tammany members of the Board had agreed with the Republicans to confirm Mayor Cooper's nominations. There was a long debate on the proposition by a Republican Alderman to confirm the appointment of Allen Campbell as Comptroller, in the place of John Kelly. Tammany desired to refer the nomination to a committee but were beaten 12 to 9. Discussion continued as to confirmation. When the vote was taken it resulted, for confirmation, 13; against 8—and Allen Campbell succeeds John Kelly as Comptroller. Confirmations rapidly followed of all the appointments of the Mayor, some of which were Republicans and the rest anti-Tammany Democrats.

New Churches.

The Baptists of Woodland and vicinity have purchased a lot on First street, next to Card's paint shop, on which to erect a Church, and intend to commence building immediately. It will be a good sized, fine-looking building.

We understand that the United Brethren have also bought a lot, on Second street south of Main, and intend to move their Church—now located three miles west of Woodland—on to it. With some additions and repairs this will make them a good house for worship, and the site is a good one.

As we already have five churches here, this will make seven, and will accommodate all who wish to attend religious services.

Roll of Honor.

Following is the roll of honor of the Cache Creeek school for the half term commencing August 16th, and closing December 3rd, 1880:

Mary Lawson 100, Edith Gibson 100, Ada Dopkins 99, Harry Dopkins 99, Arthur Oliver 98, Willie Lusk 97, Harry Diehl 91.

JENNIE GIBSON, Teacher.

Had It Modeled.

Just after the distribution of the mail this afternoon, we noticed old Broggs standing alone in front of the telegraph office, apparently in a towering rage. He held two or three envelopes in his hand, and had evidently just read the contents they had enclosed. He was so mad that he was purple in the face, and his ever beaming nose shone with, if possible, increased lustre. When the crowd had partially thinned out we approached him and inquired the cause of his apparent excitement. He glared at us a moment, and then, brightening up a little, ejaculated, "Jest the thing, by gum. You'll publish it to the world and expose the blamed fool as she deserves to be. Yes, I'm agoing to tell you. Do you see them letters? Got 'em every one out'n the office jest now. They're not letters though—they're bills, ding it. Bills, made out in regular form, and sent to me to pay, look you."

"Bills for what," we asked, thinking the man was crazy.

"Look here, Mr. Reporter, do you know my daughter Sally?"

"Well, I should smile," was the response.

"Of course you do. Well, the other day she read an item out of one of your durned newspapers about a girl in Vermont that had one of her feet modeled in marble, and give it as a paper weight to her betrothed, dang him, fur a birthday present. And now what does Sally do but take it into her head that she must have her yam modeled to give her young man fur a paper weight. So it seems from these bills here she ups and goes to Martin's artificial stone works, and has her blamed hoof modeled in artificial granite. Let's see. Here's the bill:

Joshua Broggs to H. P. Martin,	Dr.
To casting model of daughter's foot	$11 45
" polishing same	2 15
" reducing size of bunion	35
Due	$13 95

"Thirteen dollars and— nearly fourteen dollars to begin with! But that ain't only a starter. Here's another:

Joshua Broggs to H. Hicks,	Dr.
To hauling obelisk representing daughter's foot from marble works to Court House.	$2 75
Help to load and unload	1 25
Hire of block and tackle to h'ist up to Clerk's office	50
Total	$4 50

"Maybe ye think that's all the expense attendin' my b'lovd daughter's recent exploit? Not by a doggoned sight. Her young feller, who is a Frenchman in sentiment, and consekently a little sensitive about things, was so broke up and mortified (I reckon) when he seed the label stating that the model was to be used as a paper weight in remembrance of his ever thoughtful and loving Sally, and all that, and knowing that the blamed thing 'ud give him dead away, he got Steve Blue to take it away and bury it som'ers outside the corporation, anywheres jest so't he would'nt never see it again, and then, dad fetch it, bein' too poor, or too stingy to pay for the interment, he gits Steve to send his bill to me. You don't believe it? By gosh, here it is:

Josh (Josh, mind you) Josh Broggs to Steve Blue,	Dr.
To transporting left foot of the Egyptian Sphinx outside corporashun & berrying the same	$4 35
Use of ground for interment	2 65
Help to load and unload	1 35
Due	$8 35

Here the reporter saw that his old friend was becoming dangerous, so he sidled off, without venturing any remarks concerning the situation.

Letter from Clarksburg.

CLARKSBURG, Dec. 12, 1880.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT:—I write thinking a few notes from this part of the county may be interesting to at least some of your many readers. It is pleasant to note the energy with which our river farmers are at work preparing their lands for the various kinds of seeds which they intend planting. The lands all along the river, and especially at Merritt, are being put in a very fine state of cultivation; and it is to be hoped that He who sends his rain on the just and unjust will not send more than is needed for these river farmers. The little town of Clarksburg is still in existence, and holds its own remarkably well.

D. G. Webber, the energetic and popular merchant of this place, has just received a large invoice of goods, which he is selling at prices to correspond with the times.

We visited the public School of this place last Friday, and it is with pleasure we note the progress made by the pupils during the present term. The school is taught by Professor Robert McCourt, who is a successful worker in the school room. Professor Osborn, of Santa Clara, chanced to be present on a visit, and gave a very fine and interesting lecture for the benefit of the students, after which Mr. McCourt and Miss Jessie Hester combined the powers of the violin and organ, and by this means produced some very fine music for the occasion. It is but just to say that we have never spent a more pleasant afternoon with this school.

Ex-Assessor J. J. Ammons has been quite sick, but is better now, and we hope he will soon be able to attend to business again.

Col. Enos Creason has been making some very much needed improvements on our public roads. The levees around Merritt Island are being straightened and otherwise improved.

We were in the town of Washington a few days ago, where we met many old friends, notable among whom were Uncle John Webb and William Green, Esq. Both of these gentlemen are still on the political war-path, and say they hope to live long enough to help elect a Democratic President, H.

The Finn-Landis Case.

At 2 o'clock, Monday afternoon, Julia A. Finn—or Mrs. George E. Landis, as she persisted in being called—with her counsel, D. E. Alexander, Esq., of Sacramento, appeared in the Justice's Court here to undergo examination on a charge of assault with intent to murder one George E. Landis, her alleged husband. The circumstance of Mrs. Finn, or Landis, taking two or three shots at Landis at the Willow Slough school house in this county some weeks ago, have already been made familiar to our readers. The woman was arrested upon a warrant sworn out by Landis, but the prosecuting witness not making his appearance yesterday the case was postponed until Saturday, Dec. 17th, at 10 o'clock A.M. Mrs. Finn is a very pretty brunette, with sparkling black eyes, and was dressed in a becoming suit of black. She carried a baby in her arms, which she claims to be the legitimate heir of the prosecuting witness. Much feeling is manifested in this case among the people of Willow Slough neighborhood, sympathy being entirely with the lady in the case. Mr. Landis will be subpœnaed to appear and testify next Saturday, in default of which he will be brought up on a bench warrant, as Justice Ruggles is in no humor to stand any more foolishness from the gay and festive pedagogue. Mrs. Finn is held to appear in the same bonds filed at the time of her arrest.

In Memoriam.

At a regular meeting of Capay Lodge No. 230, I. O. O. F., held Dec. 4th, 1880, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God in his providence to remove by death our beloved brother, Thomas Powell, therefore be it

Resolved, That we will ever cherish with sincere affection the memory of our departed Brother; trusting that he has only been called to lay off the perishing emblems of his subordinate Lodge on earth, to be arrayed, through the mercy of God, in the everlasting jewels of Friendship, Love and Truth.

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the friends and relatives of our deceased Bro., in their bereavement, and tender them our sincere and heartfelt sympathy.

Resolved, That, as a token of our sorrow, the Charter of this Lodge be appropriately draped, and we, as members, wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days. And be it further

Resolved, That these Resolutions be spread in full upon the minutes, and copies be sent to the relatives of the deceased; also that copies be sent to the county papers for publication.

TEMPERANCE DEPARTMENT.

To the spread of temperance literature, the creation of a purer temperance sentiment, and the encouragement of the workers now in the field,

THIS COLUMN IS RESPECFULLY DEDICATED,

REV. E. M. STUART, Editor.

Contributions solicited for this Department.

GOOD MORNING.

I bring you the friendly greetings of the Good Templars of Yolo County. Through the generosity of the editor and proprietor of the DEMOCRAT, and by appointment of the District Lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars, held at Woodland December 11th, we have taken the editorial management of this department. Through this column we expect to visit the homes of the numerous readers of the DEMOCRAT once a week, for a time at least, and we sincerely hope our presence may not be ignored or our visits prove unwelcome. We shall try to bring as much sunshine with us as the nature of the questions we discuss will admit. We shall place before you as the humor seizes us, contributed, selected or original matter, or a compound of all. We also propose, as far as we are able, to make you acquainted with the progress of the work at home and abroad, firmly believing that a better understanding of the work before them and an occasional glimpse at the victories which are being achieved elsewhere will go far towards arousing a warmer enthusiasm and deeper and more settled earnestness on the part of temperance people.

The various phases of the temperance question will be discussed in this column, but always in a spirit of kindness and good will towards those who differ with us. No personal abuse, no ungentlemanly epithets can be applied here to those whom we are compelled to regard as antagonists in this great stauggle. On our flag we inscribe the words "With malice toward none and charity for all." Our warfare is not a personal one, but one of vital principles, and because it is RIGHT. We take our stand in the temperance army and place our pencil to the paper not with hopes, not with the faintest expectation of a speedy victory, but to contribute the mite of our influence towards preparing the way for ultimate victory.

"For right is right, since God is God,
And right the day must win,
To doubt would be disloyalty,
To falter would be sin."

In assuming the duties and responsibilities of this department we trust we shall have the hearty sympathy and co-operation, not of Good Templars alone, but of all temperance workers, and that they will feel an interest in this column and send along their contributions to help fill it. Again I say, Good morning.

Yolo County District Lodge I. O. G. T.

The second meeting of the Seventh year of the above Lodge was held in Woodland Dec. 10th and 11th, 1880.

On Friday evening Chrysopolis Lodge of Woodland gave a social for Good Templars and invited friends, which was well attended. The exercises of the evening were highly enjoyable. Readings were given by Sisters Stone, Baker, and Kean, and Brothers Sprague and Ball. The readings were well selected and excellently rendered. Singing by the audience and several pieces by instrumental music given by Sister Minnie Cross, added much to the enjoyment of the occasion, and those Good Templars who were absent missed a rare season of enjoyment.

On Saturday at 10 A. M. the District Lodge was called to order and opened in the usual form, B. H. Hoag, State Deputy, in the Chair.

Motion was made and carried that the order of business be suspended and the Lodge proceed to the Installation of District Deputy and his appointed officers as follows: D. Deputy, Bro. John A. Black, of Success Lodge No. 366; D. C. Bro. E. M. Stuart, of Chrysopolis Lodge No. 210; D. R. H. S., Sister S. A. Black, of Success Lodge, No. 366; and Sister Kate Cross, of Chrysopolis Lodge, No. 210.

After Installation by State Deputy Hoag, the regular order of business was taken up. D. D. Bro. J. A. Black in the Chair. Roll call of officers, and all noted present except P. D. D. Bro. B. F. Loomis, of Capay, and D. D. M. Sister Emma Norton, of Capay.

THE YOLO DEMOCRAT, through Bro. Stuart offered a column for temperance articles. Accepted with thanks by an unanimous vote, and Bro. E. M. Stuart was appointed Editor of said column also by the same vote.

Davisville was chosen as the place for holding the next District Lodge, on the 11th and 12th of February, 1881.

The following Standing Committees were appointed by the District Deputy for the ensuing year: Committees on Credentials—M. C. Winchester, S. O. Barker and S. Bradshaw; Committee on Programme—B. H.; Hoag, L. Belcher and James McHenry. Committee on Appeals—Wm. Sims, B. F Loomis and W. H. Bradshaw; Committee on Finance—C. Conell, J. H. Norton, D. P. Coon; Committee on State of the Order—A. D. A recess of one hour and a half was taken, in which time the Brn. and Srs. of Chrysopolis Lodge spread a most elegant and bountiful lunch, of which all present were invited to partake. The Brn. and Srs. are noted for their hospitalsty, but on this ocassion they excelled themselves.

Lodge called to order and on motion of Bro. Hoag a committee of three—Bros. Hoag, Stuart and Grant—was appointed to procure placards for the different Lodges to post up, giving notice of time and place of meeting.

This resolution, by Brother Gutcher, was adopted unanimously;

Resolved, That a vote of thanks be and is hereby tendered to Chrysopolis Lodge No. 210 for the bountiful lunch spread before the members of this District Lodge.

An agreement was drawn up and signed by all the voters present, except four, to support no party or man in the future for offices of profit or trust who are not in favor of the legal prohibition of the liquor traffic. Let politicians look out.

Under the head of Good of the Order, Brn. Stuart, Grant, Norton, Coon, Gutcher, Russell, Hoag and Winchester made remarks that were well received.

Bro. Hoag made an earnest plea for support of the above resolution and the spread of temperance literature.

There appearing no further business, at 3 o'clock P. M. the Lodge closed in F. H. & C., and all present departed highly pleased with the meeting and with a stronger hope for temperance in the future.

M. C. WINCHESTER, D. S.
P. GUTCHER, D. A. S.

It will be seen by the above report that all the officers were present except two, and it may be added further, these two were detained on account of sickness. The full attendance of officers and delegates at the District Lodge, notwithstanding the bad roads, and disagreeable weather, and that they must bear their own expenses and receive no compensation, speaks well, we think, for their earnestness in the good work.—ED.

What is nicer or more highly valued than a good watch, an elegant set of jewelry, a carefully selected book or some of the other nice articles to be found at Greene,s jewelry store, for holiday gifts. The much talked of running race between Lambert's "Tobe" and Sulbley's little mare "Snip," came off over the Madison race track Saturday. The race was a single dash of 300 yards, and was won by "Snip" by about a length. The time was not fast, owing to the heavy condition of the track. Considerable coin changed hands on the result, and much interest was manifested. It is thought that "Tobe" is the faster of the two horses on a more favorable track. A large delegation from Woodland was in attendance at the race.

A full attendance of members at the next regular meeting of Woodland Lodge No. 111, I. O. O. F., is urgently requested, as business of importance is to be transacted at that time.

From Supervisor Sims we learn that the Baptist Church fair and festival held at Winters, on the evening of Wednesday, Dec. 8th, was, considering the inclemency of the weather, a pronounced success. Over three hundred persons were present during the evening, and everything passed off very pleasantly. The lunch tables were well patronized, and the numerous articles offered for sale brought good prices. One splendid cake, which was balloted for at ten cents per vote, the ballots being cast for the handsomest young lady in the hall, brought $18.50. Lucky the fair damsel who was so popular as to win that cake. Sufficient good things to eat were left over to make a feast for the next day and evening, which, served with oyster soup and hot coffee, appeased the cravings of many a hungry throat. The net receipts were about $160.

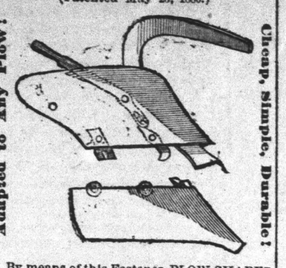
PLOW-SHARE FASTENER

(Patented May 25, 1880.)



By means of this Fastener, PLOW-SHARES are EASILY and QUICKLY REMOVED from the mold board. There are no BOLTS or NUTS to rust and wear loose. No tedious and vexatious delays in hunting after nuts and wrenches. There is simply

A LEVER ATTACHMENT

Which is thrown back, releasing the share when another can then be put in its place, the whole operation occupying but a few seconds.

Read the following Testimonials from those who have used the Fastener:

DUNNIGAN, CAL., Aug. 1, 1880.

J. P. Patrey, Esq.—Dear Sir—I have been using your patent for fastening plow shares for some time. It saves time, labor and money, and fastens the shares as firmly as if bolted.

Yours truly, M. T. EMMERT.

SPRING VALLEY, Colusa Co., March 18, 1880.

Mr. J. P. Patrey—Dear Sir—I have used your Plow-share Fastener on a Eureka Plow, breaking up new ground in heavy timber. I frequently had to hitch the team to the rear of the plow in order to release it from the stumps and rocks, and have always found the Fastener all right. Hereafter I shall use it on all my plows. J. W. JOHNS.

DUNNIGAN, Yolo Co., Cal., Jan. 26, 1880.

Mr. J. P. Patrey—Dear Sir—Your "Plow-Share Fastener" recommends itself, as no bolts are used. I can change my plow-points in a few seconds. J. A. BYERS.

DUNNIGAN, Yolo Co., Cal., July 31, 1880.

J. P. Patrey, Esq.—Dear Sir—In answer to yours of a few days since, inquiring of the Plow-Share Fastener, I wish to state that I have used the four sent me with perfect success, and consider them a very great saving in time, and would most heartily recommend them to all farmers. I will order one for each plow before the plow season begins.

Most respectfully, B. B. GLASCOCK.
